The Idaho Cattle Association's Future Is Worth Endowing

Tax Deductibility of Gifts

All gifts to the Foundation are charitable contributions and entitle you to deductions from your income, estate, and gift taxes (as applicable). You should, of course, check with your own tax adviser as to the applicability and use of any charitable tax deductions you may be entitled to for gifts to the Foundation and other charities.

Appropriate recognition unique to the Foundation will be given to those who support it. All Foundation donors will also be listed in the Foundation's annual report unless confidentiality has been requested by the donor.

Idaho Cattle Foundation

The Idaho Cattle Foundation, Inc., was established by the Idaho Cattle Association in May of 2009. The ICA was the original donor, providing the funds necessary to establish the endowment trust. Since that time the Foundation has received contributions from many supporters and friends of the Idaho cattle industry.

The Foundation is qualified as an IRS 501(c)(3) tax exempt organization, thereby enabling qualified donors to receive tax benefits for their contributions. The Foundation is organized exclusively for charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes within the meaning of 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, including but not limited to funding and performing research activities which will improve practices in the beef industry in Idaho; educating Idaho cattle producers about sound environmental stewardship practices; educating the public at large about the beef industry's stewardship of the environment, the beef industry's important role in providing a healthy food source to the citizens of our nation and other nations and about the beef industry's important impact on the Idaho economy.

The Foundation is managed by an independent Board of Directors. Current Foundation Directors are: James A. Little, President; DuWayne Skaar, Vice President; Judith Woodie, Treasurer; members Leonard H. Purdy, Carl Crabtree, Morgan Evans and Bill Rawlings; Tom McDonnell, secretary.

Our Legacy Foundation Giving Levels

"Riding for the Brand" Legacy Club

A qualifying gift of $1,250.00 or more in cash or marketable securities to the Idaho Cattle Legacy Foundation

"Riding for the Brand" is the cowboy's way of declaring loyalty and full commitment to a cause greater than himself. It means his full effort, energy and devotion are focused on the single task of living up to the faith, confidence and trust others have placed in him.

The "Riding For the Brand" Club membership is intended to be within the financial reach of every loyal supporter of the Idaho Cattle Association.

Each donor will receive a handsome, reduced size replica, of the actual Idaho Cattle Association branding iron, mounted attractively on a wooden base with the donor's name inscribed declaring him or her a member of the "Riding For the Brand" Legacy Club.

Method of Contribution: Immediate payment
Pledges payable within three years

The 1915 Society

A qualifying gift of $2,500.00 or more in cash or marketable securities to the Idaho Cattle Legacy Foundation

The Idaho Cattlemen's Association was originally founded in 1915 as the Idaho Cattle and Horse Grower's Association. This early-time organization founded by visionary pioneers of the beef industry set the standard and foundation for today's dynamic, grassroots, producer driven association.

Each donor will receive a handsome 1915 Society wall plaque with their name inscribed declaring they are a member of the 1915 Society.

Method of Contributing: Immediate payment in full
Pledge payable within three years

The 1984 Society

A qualifying gift of $5,000.00 or more in cash or marketable securities to the Idaho Cattle Legacy Foundation

This Society honors that special date of January 1, 1984 when the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association and the Idaho Cattlemen's Association joined together to form the Idaho Cattle Association.

Each donor will receive a handsome 1984 Society wall plaque with their name inscribed declaring they are a member of the 1984 Society.

Method of Contributing: Immediate payment
Pledges payable within three years

The Founders Circle

A qualifying gift of $10,000.00 or more outright or in a five year pledge to the Idaho Cattle Legacy Foundation

This circle of givers honor those true heroes of the American West, Idaho in particular, who generations ago established ranches and homesteads in our mountains, valleys and plains or worked to establish places of business to support those pioneers. They left behind a legacy defined by a code of ethics, hard work and industry that lives today and gives promise to a strong and thriving future for the way of life we love.

Each donor will receive a handsome Founders Circle wall plaque with their name inscribed declaring they are a member of the Founders Circle.

The Heritage Circle

A qualifying gift of $50,000.00 or more outright or in a five year pledge, or in the form of a deferred gift to the Idaho Cattle Legacy Foundation

The Heritage Circle reflects the desire and determination of donors to keep alive the promise of a bright future for generations of cattle families in Idaho. Participation at the Heritage Circle level of giving is an eloquent way to help protect the heritage of the livestock industry of Idaho.

Each donor will receive a handsome Heritage Circle wall plaque with their name inscribed declaring they are a member of the Heritage Circle.
